INTRODUCTION

Hello! You are warmly welcome to this section of the Intervention English Language lesson. In the previous section, you learned about the real-life connections between words and their usage. In this section, we will look at how we can use our knowledge of words and their different meanings to enrich our language skills. This section will help you identify new meaning for familiar words and apply them correctly in speech and writing. You will be equipped with the skills to use the appropriate vocabulary to describe situations in your daily activities. Make sure you follow the lesson carefully and do all the learning activities that are provided in the course of the lesson.

By the end of the lesson, you as the student will be able to;

Identify new meanings for familiar words and apply them correctly.

Key Ideas

Familiar words refer to words that are easy to recognise or frequently used. Context refers to the immediate surrounding or environment in which a word or a sentence is used. Syntax is the grammatical role of the word in the sentence.

IDENTIFYING VARIED MEANINGS OF FAMILIAR WORDS

Familiar words are words that are easy to recognise since they are frequently used. They may be common words to us but their meaning in terms of usage may differ. For instance, let us examine the pair of sentences below.

1. Manu was given local medication prepared from the tree bark.
2. The dog's bark woke her up.

In the first sentence, the word ‘bark’ refers to the cover or the protective outer sheath of a tree which is mostly used for local medication. However, in the second sentence, the word ‘bark’ relates to the noise made by a dog. Also, the word ‘bank’ may have different meanings based on how it is used. It may refer to a financial institution or a space around or on the edge of a river. For example:

1. Ama and Kassim took a stroll on the river bank. (‘bank’ here means a space around or the edge of a river)
2. The bank refused to pay the customer. (the meaning of the word ‘bank’ here is a financial institution)

From the illustrations or examples given, it is clear that the same word may relate to different meanings according to how they are used. This is to say that words are better understood when they are used in sentences or context.

Activity 4.1

Answer the questions below

- a) Use your dictionary to look up for at least two different meanings of the words below:
  - i. Transport _____
_____
  - ii. Pen _____
_____
  - iii. Match _____
_____
- b) Use each of the words to form two sentences to show two different meanings:
  - i. Transport _____
_____
  - ii. Pen _____
_____
  - iii. Match _____
_____

Well done! You can observe that, some of the meanings of the words from the dictionary are familiar while other meanings may be unfamiliar to you. This means that, until a word is used, we cannot just assign or give it a particular meaning. Let us take a look at examples with the word ‘fire’.

1. Fire

a) familiar meaning- flame

- i. The fire burnt down the house.
- ii. The fire has destroyed the entire village.

b) Unfamiliar meaning/ new meaning- to shoot

- i. The military will fire into the air.
- ii. Armed robbers always fire their victims.

c) Unfamiliar/new meaning- to sack

- i. Your boss will fire you for not doing your work.
- ii. They won’t fire you for coming late.

This is to help you understand that, the same word may have two or more meanings in relation to its use. Therefore, you have to look at a particular word in a sentence carefully before determining its meaning.

Activity 4.2

From the list of words lettered A to C, choose the word or group of words that mean the same and can replace the underlined word in the sentence.

1. Appiah has been fired for not meeting the timeline.
A) burnt                      B) sacked                      C) shot
2. The class secretary reviewed the minutes of the last meeting.
A) reports                      B) time                      C) recordings
3. The President has been under fire recently.
A) criticism                      B) shot                      C) disrespected
4. It is our goal as students to excel in our studies.
A) aim                      B) belief                      C) reason
5. Kumah is the head of the family.
A) strongest                      B) toughest                      C) leader

6. The team has few minutes to win the match.
 A) time                      B) chance                      C) power

Congratulations! In determining the meaning of words, we need to consider the context, syntax, word structure, collocation, synonyms, antonyms, dictionary definition, field or subject-specific knowledge, tone and register. These terms are explained in detail in the glossary for you. You are encouraged to read the explanations. We will now apply them in determining the meaning or usage of a particular word.

To begin with, let us use the following words to complete the passage below.

seat belt                      ticket                      alight                      driver                      passenger                      safety bus stance                      bus terminal

seat belt, ticket, alight, driver, passenger, safety, bus stance, bus terminal.

At the -1-, every -2- was required to get a -3- before going onboard. The bus -4- asked everyone to fasten the -5-. This was to ensure the -6- of all passengers on the bus. The station master advised the passengers to always -7- at the -8- for convenient purposes.

To fill in the gaps in the passage, we need to first and foremost consider the environment, the grammatical role, predictable words, field or subject-specific and related words of the numbered gaps. Now, let us rewrite the passage by filling in the numbered gaps.

At the bus terminal, every passenger was required to get a ticket before going onboard. The bus driver asked everyone to fasten the seat belt. This was to ensure the safety of all passengers on the bus. The station master advised the passengers to always alight at the bus stance for convenient purposes.

Keep it up! We are now going to look at how synonyms and antonyms help determine the meaning of words.

Synonym: A Word Nearest in Meaning to Another One

A synonym is a word or phrase that means exactly or nearly the same as another word or phrase in a given language. That is, words that can replace one another depending on how they are used.

For example, the words close, shut, slam and latch are all synonyms of one another. This means that each of the words can replace one another based on how they are used. Read the following sentences to understand synonyms.

1. They always shut the door in the morning.
2. They always close the door in the morning.
3. They always slam the door in the morning.
4. They always latch the door in the morning.

This is to show that, the alternative or other words that can replace the word 'shut' in the first sentence include close, slam and latch. Therefore, the words close, slam and latch are synonymous or nearest in meaning to the word shut.

Also, let us consider the word 'begin'. Which of the list of words in the table can best replace the word 'begin' in the sentence?

1. The students begin their journey today.

start	commence	initiate
-------	----------	----------

2. The students start their journey today.
3. The students commence their journey today.

Though the word 'initiate' is nearest in meaning to the word 'begin', the word 'initiate' cannot replace the word 'begin' in this context. However, the word 'initiate' can replace the word 'begin' in the sentences below.

4. The students begin their plan to succeed today.
5. The students initiate their plan to succeed today.
6. The students start their plan to succeed today.
7. The students commence their plan to succeed today.

Here, the word 'initiate' is one of the words that can replace the word 'begin' in sentence 4 because of the situation or environment the word 'begin' is used. Try and perform the activity that follows.

Activity 4.3

Use two other words that are nearest in meaning to the underlined words to rewrite the sentences below:

1. I am a happy person.

a) _____

b) _____

c) _____

2. The students are intelligent.

a) _____

b) _____

c) _____

Well done! Read more on synonyms or words nearest in meaning. We are now going to look at antonyms or words nearly opposite in meaning.

Antonym: A Word Nearly Opposite In Meaning To Another

An antonym is a word that means opposite or nearly opposite of another given word. This means that two words which are nearly opposite are different in meaning to each other. Read the following pair of sentences which are nearly opposite in meaning because of the underlined words.

1. a) Kofi turns on the light.
b) Araba turns off the light.
2. a) Abu is always home during the day.
b) Dzifa is always home during the night.
3. a) The students like their breakfast hot.
b) The teachers like their breakfast cold.

b) It is bad not to revise your notes before lessons.

1. short/tall: _____
_____

2. sit/stand: _____
_____
3. male/female: _____
_____
4. stop/move: _____

Using words to create short stories

Have you read a story recently in which you observed some words that are familiar to you were used differently? Good observation! One effective way of understanding different meanings of the same words is to use them to create short stories. Creating stories with words makes them come alive. Now, let's create a story with the words below.

mirror, umbrella, warm

I looked closely at my face in the mirror. The wet hair, pale lips, and those dark eyes – the rain has done it worse. Why did I not listen to Mummy to pick an umbrella? I took a warm bath and soon, Daddy called us for lunch. He placed his palm on my forehead and smiled. “I am glad you don't have a fever,” he said. “She is my mirror image after all”, Mother said with a wink at me. Daddy suggested that I have to be under Grandpa's umbrella for some time. Mother only added that I would receive a warm welcome there.

Did you find the story fun? As you can see the words mirror, umbrella, and warm have been used in different contexts with different meanings. Continue to read more about the different meanings of familiar words and apply them correctly to enhance the development of your vocabulary.
